WELCOME TO BASF

At Corporate Finance@BASF, we do not just focus on figures, but solutions. Our approach is strategic and innovative, we get things done. Doing so, the needs of our business partners are priority and we have the finger on the pulse when it comes to sustainability and digitalization. Topics such as evaluation of mergers & acquisitions and major investments, financing, the preparation of published statements, the management of financial risks and advising the board of directors on economic decisions are all part of our daily job. In collaboration with our globally networked communities, we continuously develop and enhance our processes.

WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT

Our unit, Group Accounting & Financial Reporting, prepares the consolidated financial statements and is responsible for the management and financial reporting of the BASF Group. We aim to strengthen our team, particularly in the following areas:

- You will contribute to the preparation of annual, quarterly, and monthly financial statements of the BASF Group, as well as the associated internal and external reporting.
- You will independently handle IFRS accounting topics and serve as the central contact person for related questions, especially from our subsidiaries. Additionally, you will be responsible for preparing the relevant notes to the financial statements.
- Furthermore, you will conduct in-depth analyses and professional assessments of accounting issues as well as actively contribute to the conceptual development of accounting practices, for example, in response to changes in IFRS.
- You will support the reporting quality and collaborate with global contacts in this context.
- As part of projects that are undertaken jointly with other BASF units, you will identify and address accounting aspects.
- You will support the implementation of digitalization measures in management and financial reporting through innovative approaches and methods.

WHAT YOU OFFER

- completed degree in business administration (Bachelor or Master), preferably with a focus on financial accounting or auditing
- in-depth theoretical knowledge of international financial reporting under IFRS and a strong interest in regulatory developments in the IFRS environment, which you follow closely
- relevant professional experience, preparation for a professional certification or professional experience in academia are advantageous
- strong analytical skills, which you apply in a goal-oriented and solution-focused manner
- proficient in using common IT systems and Microsoft Office applications
- strong communication skills in German and English, which enable you to present the results of your analyses convincingly both orally and in writing
- ideally, initial experience in working with international companies and interdisciplinary teams

WHAT WE OFFER

- Inspiring networks for the development and implementation of your ideas (e.g. Women in Business)
- Mentoring programs and learning opportunities for your professional and personal development
- Career paths as professional development to other positions in the company (including job rotation)
- Support with childcare (e.g. company daycare, holiday programmes)
- Fitness and health studio, medical center with numerous offers for your health
- Deutschlandticket as a discounted job ticket, job bike, availability of e-charging stations for private vehicles
- This role can be performed either part-time or full-time.
