

Table with 26 columns and 26 rows of Latin text variants. Each row contains a variant identifier (e.g., M^2, Θ^A, Θ^M) and its corresponding Latin text. The text is organized into columns representing different manuscript readings or variants. The table is color-coded by row, alternating between purple and light blue.